Call for Application 2026

The People of the Land: Festivities, Celebrations and Coming Together

Context

The town of Brioude has long demonstrated a steadfast commitment to cultural development. This dedication has been acknowledged and honored through various distinctions, including the labels Brioude, City of Arts and Crafts and Land of Art and History of Haut-Allier.

The Festival Photo de Brioude is a non-profit organization (governed by the French Law of 1901), whose mission is to promote a humanistic and sensitive form of photography, centered on individuals who maintain a profound and genuine connection with the land on which—and with which—they live each day.

Founded by a collective of dedicated volunteers from the Brivadois region who are passionate about humanist photography—some as creators, others as admirers—the association has chosen to bring this vision to life through the establishment of a new festival, inaugurated in the summer of 2024 across several sites within the town.

In partnership with the municipality of Brioude, and with the support of the Communauté de Communes Brioude Sud Auvergne, the Haute-Loire Department, and the Auvergne-Rhône-Alpes Region, the association is organizing the second edition of the Photography Biennial, to be held from July 10 to 19, 2026. The concept behind this Photo Festival, rooted in Brioude, Haute-Loire, in the heart of the Auvergne region, stems from the observation that the lives of People of the Land are seldom represented or explored in photographic exhibitions currently on display. It seemed both timely and compelling to develop this theme in relation to the everyday experiences of men and women of the land, and to bear witness to their practices—balancing tradition and modernity—their leisure activities, and their civic and cultural engagement, whether in Auvergne, elsewhere in France, or throughout the world.

This second edition of the Biennial aspires to present a photographic corpus with an anthropological dimension on the theme People of the Land: Festivities, Celebration, and Coming Together, whether in Auvergne, in France, or internationally. The ambition is to cast a humanistic, documentary, humorous, sociological, political, or poetic gaze upon festive gatherings—whether private or collective—that offer opportunities for People of the Land to come together and share convivial and joyous moments: village festivals, traditional or contemporary celebrations, literary or musical events, carnivals, livestock or plant fairs, local rituals, and a wide array of other communal expressions.

The event will feature approximately twenty solo exhibitions in carefully adapted and thoughtfully equipped indoor venues, as well as a collective installation in a public space.

All photographers, whether professional or amateur, are invited to submit a series (comprising 15 to 25 photographs) or to propose a specific installation (such as a slideshow or other format) exploring this theme, with a personal and distinctive approach.

Commitment of the Festival Photo de Brioude Association

The Festival Photo de Brioude association undertakes to support photographers by:

- Implementing a comprehensive promotional campaign, including a press conference, poster distribution, printed flyers and brochures, social media engagement, press and media coverage, listing in the town's cultural calendar, and communications via the Tourist Office and both public and private partners.

2nd Edition of the Photography Biennial in Brioude

- Providing each exhibitor with a high-quality, well-lit indoor exhibition space, complete with effective signage. Additionally, for each exhibitor, a selected photograph—chosen by the organizers—will be printed on a large-scale medium (such as a banner) and exhibited in a public outdoor space. The production of this print will be fully covered by the organization.
- Make available to each exhibitor a dedicated sales area for books and other materials (such as postcards), if desired. This space will also serve as an information hub for the festival (exhibition sites, schedule and locations of events, screenings, etc.).
- Provide insurance coverage for the event and for the exhibited works.
- Offer assistance with the installation and dismantling of exhibitions.
- Ensure a regular presence in the exhibition spaces by organizing volunteer staffing when photographers are unavailable.
- Allow exhibitors to sell their works throughout the duration of the biennial, with delivery of sold pieces taking place at the close of the event.
- Host an official opening reception, with invitations extended to the press and local authorities.
- Organize a festive evening gathering at the end of the festival, bringing together exhibitors, volunteers, partners, sponsors, and representatives of the municipality.

Commitments of the Exhibiting Photographer

- Join the association by paying a membership fee of €20, which contributes to the event's insurance coverage.
- Handle the transportation of their works and personally participate in the installation of the exhibition on the day prior to the opening, with assistance from the association's volunteers; likewise, be present for the dismantling following the final day of the exhibition.
- Certify and guarantee that all individuals depicted in the photographs—or their legal representatives—have given their consent for the representation and reproduction of their image, including the use of said photographs in promotional materials.
- Be present at the official opening event (vernissage), unless prevented by exceptional personal circumstances.
- Ensure, as far as possible, a regular presence during the festival in order to engage with the public. Accommodation expenses remain the responsibility of the exhibitor; however, the association will facilitate contact with local residents in Brioude who are willing to provide complimentary lodging in their homes.
- Actively participate in promoting the event through personal and professional channels (website, social media, professional networks, etc.).
- Provide a detailed list of exhibited works along with their production value, for insurance purposes.
- Authorize the organizing association to use one or more exhibited photographs to promote the Festival (in press articles, posters, flyers, online platforms, social media, etc.), with proper attribution to the photographer.
- Donate one signed and numbered original work —exhibited during the biennial— to the artothèque (public art library) of Brioude.
